

RAPID RESPONSE CLINIC

Are you struggling to pay rent? Experiencing financial or housing stress? Or worried about the future?

Juno's Rapid Response Clinic (RRC) provides women (trans and cis) and non-binary people with information and practical support to get back on track, including:

- Rental coaching and advice (access to a private rental pack)
- Information on financial assistance and counselling
- Information around Centrelink entitlements and income support
- Assistance with Register of Interest social housing application
- Information on and connection to other support services
- Understanding your rights as a tenant and linkage to support
- Information on where to get material aid

You will have access to one to two support sessions where the RRC worker can provide advice and information on the areas mentioned above.

Please note this clinic is not a crisis service. If you need help with any of the support listed, we can provide you with information and connect you with appropriate services.

When?

You can phone the clinic on Wednesday afternoons (1- 4.30pm) and Friday mornings (9am -12.30pm). In-person support can be provided too - just ask.

Where?

Juno's office in Preston and via telephone. Please contact us for details.

Cost?

Juno has received a grant to fund this clinic. There is no cost to you.

How can I join?

Please call Juno's office on 03 8692 2020 and ask to speak to our Rapid Response Clinic worker or email RRC@juno.org.au

24-hour Crisis Support
Homelessness support: 1800 825 955
Family violence support: 1800 015 188

JUNO

juno.org.au
03 8692 2020

